John M. Van Zandt is a longtime proven innovator in the cosmetics business and other industries. In 1954, he created the first skin moisturizer (Aquametics). Later he created the concept for the SFP System (Coppertone) and he was part of the team that created brush-on mascara (Helena Rubinstein); the first cosmetic blusher, Blush On; and powder eye shadow (Revlon). Later as a partner in Marketing Innovations (an innovation consulting firm), he was part of a team that innovated the minivan (US Steel) and the modern-day athletic shoe (Brown Shoe Co.). Among other innovations were the first gas station snack shops (Mobil Oil). And at age 79, John became involved in California politics, running for the US Senate in 2004 on a platform of austerity. Today, at age 85, he is exporting skin care products (Naturessence) to Africa, South America, and the Mideast. This book is the partial result of having visited 126 countries and observing world cultures. The World Freedom Federation plan is a result of seeing the wants and needs of populations throughout the globe.
